

Division of Conservation Overview

In 2011, the State Conservation Commission (SCC) staff is now the Division of Conservation (DOC), Kansas Department of Agriculture. In 2011, the Governor issued an Executive Order to reorganize the State Conservation Commission into the Kansas Department of Agriculture.

The term "State Conservation Commission" now applies only when referring to the elected and appointed members of the board previously serving the State Conservation Commission before it became the Division of Conservation. The members on this board continue to hold their positions and their powers, duties and functions have not changed. The SCC provides policy guidance to DOC staff.
